From Fr. Dave

Last month I left you with this quote from Dwight Zscheile's book The Agile Church: "The church has been given the gift of the greatest vision in human history - the kingdom or reign of God as announced and embodied in Jesus. That is our guiding vision, and it must be articulated and interpreted constantly in the church's life."

But making that vision a reality requires a community working together. Faithfully, honestly, respectfully. There will inevitably be disagreements, but as long as honesty and respect rule the day, rather than the all too normal response of defensiveness, secrecy, undermining or disengagement, the Spirit of Christ will see us through the difficulty of disagreement and help us see how to be people of Christ in our community.

The Agile Church helps us consider the difference between our idea of who we are and what we're doing to see the actual reality of what we're really doing. An example he uses is the church that sees itself as warm and welcoming but unable to retain any newcomers. More often, the warm and friendly environment may only be for those who are already part of the congregation's tightly knit extended family. But rather than merely criticize those sorts of churches, Zscheile points out that there may be valid reasons to preserve that sort of intimate community environment. The problem is that the reasons for this situation are rarely named and every more rarely examined.

But in order for a honest discussion of what Jesus is calling our parish to be, we must create a "holding environment" in which we can engage in difficult conversation without being overwhelmed by anxiety, shutting down or disintegrating. "Holding environments" reassure people that "there is enough psychological safety, that their deeply held values and commitments will be respected, and that they will not be shamed. This work involves opening up and airing conflict in a learning environment in which people can negotiate real differences with one another or between their aspirations and underlying realities."

Whew! Now that is no doubt some pretty demanding work!

But it's also the work that Jesus invites us to take on so that we can truly live into our Baptismal promises. May God's peace be with you.

SPECIAL THANKS TO ALL WHO SERVE

The General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church, the Episcopal Divinity School. The Rector search for Emanuel, St. Andrew's & St. Matthew's churches. The following prayer is from the Evening Prayer service in the Book of Common Prayer:

Keep watch, dear Lord, with those who work, or watch, or weep this night, and give your angels charge over those who sleep. Tend the sick, Lord Christ, give rest to the weary, bless the dying, soothe the suffering, pity the afflicted, shield the joyous: and all for your love's sake. Amen.

Vestry highlights from September 17, 2017 meeting

1. For outreach, it was decided to send a contribution to The Episcopal Relief and Development to help hurricane victims and to send a donation to Epiphany Church in Sherburne to help them with needed repairs to their building.
2. We will be checking with Waldron's in Sidney about the possibility of putting a hard surface flooring in the areas of the Church that show wear in the carpet.
3. The replacement of the kitchen counter and sinks was discussed. The present counter has a joint between the sinks and has separated leaving an area that cannot be properly cleaned. Steve Stewart has been contacted and several individuals have offered to help with the plumbing when the updates are made.
4. Copies of "The Agile Church" are available in the Parish Hall. The Diocese has asked that convention delegates in particular and anyone else in general be encouraged to read this book before convention.
5. Annual meeting will be October 1st. with a pot luck brunch. Two vestrypersons and one warden position are to be filled.
6. The Village of Afton has informed us that a piece of playground equipment has been purchased for the park immediately behind the Parish Hall. Installation is expected this fall or next spring. St. Ann's has contributed to the Village fund for replacement of this playground equipment.
7. There is concern about the split hickory tree and the ash tree at the side of the Parish Hall. The hickory would damage the building if it falls and the ash is also split. Rich Robinson has been contacted to inspect and give an estimate for their removal.
8. The yard work, weeds and hedge trimming was discussed. It was decided to contact Ron Sherman to see if he would have time to take care of this maintenance.
9. Treasurer reported that we are operating "in the black." Thanks be to God. It was noted that we have about $3500 of the tithed funds from the Todd estate left for outreach contributions. Vestry members were encouraged to think about where we might direct these funds for the greatest effect.

The 15th Mission of Miracles medical mission to El Salvador will take place February 3-11, 2018 !!

As always, we depend on the generous contributions from the diocese for the following items found at a local pharmacy:

- Nasal saline spray
- Antifungal cream
- Anti-itch cream
- Muscle rub
- Cranberry tablets

Thank you for your help and continued support!!

Our culture has accepted two huge lies. The first is that if you disagree with someone's lifestyle, you must fear or hate them. The second is that to love someone means you agree with everything they believe or do. Both are nonsense. You don't have to compromise convictions to be compassionate.

Rick Warren

SEPTEMBER 25

Acts 20:16. He was eager to be in Jerusalem, if possible, on the day of Pentecost.

Despite the pressures of his missionary work, Paul was in a hurry to reach Jerusalem before Pentecost. Paul was deeply involved in his work with the young churches, yet it was important to him that he join the disciples at Jerusalem, even though he knew he would be in great danger there. Travel in those days was dangerous under any circumstances, yet Paul chose to travel. Paul knew the strength of his ministry depended on his coming together with the disciples. It was in coming together for worship and the common meal (eucharist) that the disciples gathered strength and courage to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ to a hostile world. How often do we hear, "Oh, I don't go to church often, but you don't need to go to church to be a Christian." The truth is "being a Christian" is not something private. Our Christianity is expressed when we gather as a people to worship. It is in our coming together to rehearse the gospel of Jesus Christ that we strengthen our common faith. We are not merely individual Christians, but a Christian people. It is as a people gathered in worship that we find the sustaining strength that makes our faith a reality. -1968

The Final Word

Jesus said, "A man with two sons told the older boy, Son, go out and work in the vineyard." The son answered, "No, I won't go," but later changed his mind and went anyway. Then the father told the other son, "You go," and he said, "Yes, sir, I will." But he didn't go. "Which of the two was obeying his father?" Someone has said that the road to destruction is paved with good intentions. In this parable, Jesus is showing us that our actions prove our obedience or disobedience. Even though the one son initially had no intention of obeying, the fact that he obeyed in the end made him the obedient son. The other son said the right thing but didn't follow through, and he was therefore disobedient. We are reminded that our professions of faith are only as valid as the actions that follow them. Which brother in this story illustrates your walk with Christ?
