The peace of the Lord be with each and every one of you.

Every month it's kind of an odd thing for me to write these letters with the future in mind. I've never been able to predict the future, so each one of these letters is written in the hopes that some big thing doesn't happen before the message gets out to you all. Not surprisingly, that's even more poignantly true this month.

I began this letter on March 17th, the day Chenango County announced its first positive Covid-19 case. I have no idea where we'll be when April rolls around. Certainly, there will be more cases. This virus will eventually work its way through the population. Our goal is to merely slow down its progress so that hospitals aren't overwhelmed.

Also, at this point, I'm not sure how we'll be continuing to share our worship together as congregations, let alone how our vestries will meet. I'm certain I'll experiment with Facebook Live and Zoom, but when we'll be able to safely gather again is anyone's guess.

Now, the big question that begs to be asked is – "Where is God in all this?"

I firmly believe that God continually seeks to communicate God's presence to us in our personal and public lives. So, where is God in all this?

I reject the idea that Covid-19 is God's punishment on us or those directly afflicted with it. Jesus himself pointed out that when the Tower of Siloam collapsed and killed people that was not God's judgment against those people (Luke 13:4). Moreover, the clear message of Jesus' ministry is that one of the main purposes of God's people is to help those in need, help those who are suffering.

It's been pointed out in other natural (or even manmade) disasters and I'm convinced it applies to this one as well – God's presence is most clearly experienced precisely where help and healing is found. So, call your neighbor – especially the elderly and isolated. Make sure they have what they need. If you are in need, please don't be so proud that you don't contact one of us and ask for help.

There is so much confusion and stress and isolation happening now that now, more than ever, we need to focus on communicating with one another. Where is God in all this? Right here, in our caring for others. Amen.

The General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church, the Episcopal Divinity School. The Learning Communities Initiative of the Diocese. The following prayer is from the Evening Prayer service in the Book of Common Prayer:

Keep watch, dear Lord, with those who work, or watch, or weep this night, and give your angels charge over those who sleep. Tend the sick, Lord Christ, give rest to the weary, bless the dying, sooth the suffering, pity the afflicted, shield the joyous: and all for your love's sake. Amen.

Dear God,

We need you!

We need you now more than ever.

So many of us are afraid. We don't know what to think or who to believe.
We need you.

Each day increases our worry; worry for ourselves, our families, our friends and for our nation. In fact, dear God, we worry for people all over the world.
We need you.

Blame and bickering abound. Calm voices of reason are hard to be found.
We need you.

The unknown is what frightens us the most. For so many of us, we've been blessed to live in a place and a country where we have few if any fears. Now we are scared of what comes next.
We need you.

For too long we've lived lives buried on our phones. Or eyes stuck on TV from morning 'til eve. We've lost sight of your Word. And the peace that only you can bring.
We need you.

Please bless our family and friends. Bless our neighbors - friend or foe.
Guide our leaders at this time. Bring us together.
We need you.

Take our hand and draw us near as we battle with our fear. Help us find ways to reconnect with our family and friends. Help us to look out for our neighbors and co-workers and students. Most importantly, help us reconnect with you.

Lord, we need you.

Amen

Church-Going

The Rev. Stephen J. Elkins-Williams

What is the single most important thing you can do to grow in the spiritual life? I would reply without hesitation, "Go to church at least weekly."

There are many reasons we come up with to avoid going to church; "Sunday is my only day to relax, "That's our family/couple time, 'I don't get much out of it; People aren't friendly; I just have too much to do." But in the end, if we are honest, they all boil down to rationalization and selfishness. Nothing is more important than going to church.

Nothing is more important because we were created to worship God, and not just individually, but communally. Our very nature as those whom God created. "knit together in our mothers' wombs," is to pay homage to God. Together we are to "worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness," and with Angels and Archangels and all the company of heaven, to proclaim the glory of God's name, "Holy, holy, holy Lord God of Hosts..."

Nothing is more important because going to church pulls us beyond our limited focus and our narrow vision. The challenge of belief, the call to love others, and the concrete experience of community, of people of different ages and needs and viewpoints, stretches us beyond ourselves. When we stop going to church or go infrequently, we cut off even the possibility of being challenged to new spiritual growth.

Nothing is more important because each time we go to church, we offer a visible witness – to the world and to the Church – of the presence of the living God. Imagine if there were no churches, or no one went, what message that would communicate. When we go to church, our example and our word (in prayer and hymn) strengthen others to receive "the Good News of God in Christ."

Simply going to church – mere physical presence – does not insure that we will love God and our neighbor and be powerful witnesses to others. We must "go" in the full sense of "enter into." But if we do go to church, faithfully and frequently, not giving into our excuses, we will be amazed at the growth God can work in us.

Slow Food Days

A young friend asked me the other day, "What was your favorite fast food when you were growing up?"

"We didn't have fast food when I was growing up," I replied. "All food was slow."

"Seriously, where did you eat?" he asked.

"It was a place called 'home,'" I explained.

"Mom cooked every day and when Dad got home from work, we sat down together at the dining room table and prayed before eating. My mother saw to it that we always had healthy, fresh foods on the table. And if I didn't like what she put on my plate; I was allowed to sit there until I did like."

My young friend was laughing so hard I didn't tell him the part about how I had to have permission to leave the dinner table.

The Final Word

Faith: “After that generation died, another generation grew up who did not acknowledge the LORD or remember the mighty things he had done for Israel. Then the Israelotes did what was evil in the LORD’S sight and worshiped images of Baal.... “ Judges 2:10-11

“Each person stands alone before God. But you have the wonderful priviledge of encouraging the next generation, or even the next two, to love God and follow him. Think about that when it is time for family devotions, when you take your family to church and Sunday school, or when you pray with your children, Think about it when you tuck them in bed at night and tell hem Bible stories. This is inheritance at its best. Help your children love God’s Word; read it to them daily! Sing God’s songs to them. Most of all, be a role model. Your children will stand alone before God, but they will likely stand in the way they have see you stand. NLT - GZ
